

Web Accessibility Check

Create the web contents to which anyone can access using web accessibility check feature.

Experiencing

Division	Definition
Guideline for Enhancement of the Accessibility of the Disabled and the Elderly to Information and Communication	To provide availability of information and communication products and services to those who intend to use them.
Web Accessibility Initiative (WAI)	Web accessibility is to assure that the disabled can also use the web, by making the web contents perceivable, operable and understandable for the disabled and robust enough to be utilized regardless of the technology
Wikipedia	Web accessibility is to allow users using not only the standard browsers but also various user agents easily access to the web page and to ensure that the disabled can also use the web through that
National Information Society Agency	To ensure that any user (the disabled, the elderly, etc.) in any technical environment can access to all the information provided in a website without a special skill